

Mending the Engagement Gap in Turbulent Times

PXT Select™ Virtual Showcase

Employee disengagement can be damaging and expensive, especially in turbulent times. Creating an environment where employees can realize their highest potential and fully engage with their work while operating in uncertain or high pressure times requires business leaders to know their people on a deeper level. It also requires a commitment to meet people's individual needs. When organizations take action to make these circumstances possible, employees engage with their work and realize their full potential.

That's where PXT Select™ can help. Join us to discover how the PXT Select solution creates a consistent, scalable process that provides organizations with the information they need to engage their employees fully and drive business results. Attendees receive a complimentary PXT Select assessment to gain a feel for how this powerful solution drives high-performing culture through the power of people.

You Will Learn:

- Why employee engagement is critical to an organization's bottom line
- Which five conditions allow employees to engage with their work and drive results
- The full value of PXT Select as a talent management tool for coaching, improving team effectiveness, developing skills, career pathing, succession planning, and more
